How much does a cargo-worthy container cost?

Cargo-worthy containers give you an excellent middle-ground option. These containers show some wear but keep their structural integrity for international shipping. The price of cargo-worthy containers typically range from $1,300 to $6,000. They are a budget-friendly choice for many businesses.

How much does a wind and water tight container cost?

Wind and water tight (WWT) containers are your most affordable option if you need storage solutions. These containers are usually more than 10 years old and therefore priced between $1,800 and $4,300. Here's a complete comparison of container grades: WWT containers might show visible rust and dents, but they work perfectly for storage purposes.

How long does it take conexwest to deliver a container?

Conexwest, a leader in shipping and storage solutions based in Northern California, offers new, used, and refurbished containers from 10ft to 45ft, with fast delivery within 3-7 days and container fabrication options like adding shelves and locks.

How much does a 40 ft cube container cost?

The 40ft high cube container will set you back anywhere from $2,000 to $6,000. A new container, with its fresh-off-the-factory-floor feel, naturally costs more than its seasoned counterparts. Used or cargo-worthy containers, which have braved the elements and collected some dents along the way, have lower price tags.
