What insurance do you need to lease a drone?

Financers and lessors will typically require evidence of insurance, such as Unmanned Aerial System Liability (UASL) and Hull Insurance, before they approve the financing or leasing of drones and equipment. You will also need to provide a Certificate of Insurance (COI), which includes:

Do I need insurance if I have a drone fleet?

If you are a manufacturer, user of drone services, have other insurance needs, or your drone fleet exceeds 10 systems, please contact Rick Harpenau at info@henriott.com for further information on the most appropriate insurance products. Examples of coverages that may be needed by your business include:

Is drone safety the law?

More importantly, drone safety is the law. Find relevant resources below according to how you use your drone. Whether you're a public safety drone operator, certificated remote pilot, model aircraft flyer, or a drone racer, you're in the right place to learn about integrating these new entrants into our national airspace system.

Do you need liability insurance if you have a drone?

These policies protect you from having to pay out-of-pocket for damages or legal defense. For example, if a drone crashes into a building during a construction inspection or injures someone at a public event, your liability insurance will handle the resulting costs, including your legal defense.

All drone pilots, new or experienced, benefit from rules and safety tips to help you fly safe. More importantly, drone safety is the law.
